Introduction to Kinusaiga

Kinusaiga is a Japanese art form used to create pictures by pressing fabric pieces into the grooves of wood, (or foam board). It's known as "patchwork without a needle" and the results are beautiful, colorful, textured compositions that look like mini quilts. You select the design, the colors, and the fabrics to create a unique art piece. It's easy to do, allows personal creativity, and always looks so professional when completed.

The workshop will be held Tuesday, October 20, 2026, 2:00 to 6:00 pm in the Arts & Crafts Room. (Max: 20 people). I will provide everything you will need to create your own piece. However, you are free to bring your own design, fabric, and tools if you would like. The cost of the project is $35 payable to the instructor at least one week before the class. Text me at 508-333-8666 to obtain my Venmo ID and/or address for cash payments. Items needed to complete a project include:

- Insulation foam board – 1 inch thick 12:x12: surface size.
You may make your project this size or cut it down to smaller pieces.
- Double sided adhesive sheets – sticks fabric to foam board
- Fabric scraps – a variety of colors, prints, and textures
- Exacto knife – for scoring the design on the board
- Seam Ripper – works great for tucking the fabric into the grooves on the board
- Scissors – small and fabric friendly
- Sample designs – use as is or modify as you like.

Please contact Helene Taylor @ 508-333-8666. If you have any questions at all.
